N.B. The transliteration of an Arabic word is not the proper way of correct pronunciation. It is fully depended on listening.

The forms of each letters:

Arabic language is not like that of English , because it is read and written from the right side and its letters do not remain in the same form in the beginning ,middle and the end of a word .A chart of Arabic alphabet forms is given below.

| Detached Form | Beginning    | Middle     | End                   |

| ي | ي=يَدٌ     | ي=فِيهَا      | ي=عُمِّي    |

In the above chart, we saw that six letters (أ، د، ذ، ر، ز، و) were not connected to the letters following them, therefore their initial forms matched the isolated and their medial forms matched the end.

For uttering any arabic letter or word we have to know some terms; specially four terms. They are;

الْحَرَكَةُ ' al -harakah, التَّنْوِينُ at- tanween, التَّشْدِيدُ at- tashdid , السَّكِينُ ' as -saakin. A person- who knows arabic grammar can read correctly any arabic word or sentence without assistance of these terms, but a beginner needs them very much . In Arabic language a vowel is called " حَرَكَهٌ " and a consonant with vowel signs is called ' مُتَحَرِّكٌ ' mutahar-rik ‘moved’ and a consonant without a vowel sign is called ' سَاكِنٌ ' saakin ‘restion.

Al haraakat (الْحَرَكَاتُ) vowels

There are three short vowel signs in Arabic language. They are اَلضَّمَّةُ ad-dhammah, اَلْفَتْحَةُ al-fathah and اَلْكَسْرَةُ al-kasrah.

ad- dammah ( اَلضَّمَّةُ )

Dammah (◌ْ) is like as a small ‘waw’ above a consonant. It is the english equivalent of the letter “o” and “u” e.g.

Example:

| Words    | transliteration |
|----------|-----------------|
| جَزَاءُ  | jazaa'u         |
| حَيْتُ   | hay-thu         |
| عَذَابُ  | 'adhaabu        |
| يُخْرِجُ | yukh-riju       |
|          |                 |

Al- fathah (الْفَتْحَةُ)

Fathah (◌َ) is a small diagonal stroke above a consonant. The letter which holds this fathah is known as ‘maftuh’ (مَفْتُوحٌ). This vowel is the english equivalent of the letter “a” e.g.

Example:

| Words  | Transliteration |
|--------|-----------------|
| خَلَقَ | Khalaqa         |
| ذَلِكَ | dhalika         |
| فَعَلَ | fa'ala          |
| ذَهَبَ | dhahaaba        |
| سَمِعَ | sami'a          |

Al-kasrah (الْكَسْرَةُ)

Kasrah (◌ِ) is a small diagonal stroke under a consonant. The letter which holds this kasa under it is known as maksur (مَكْسُورٌ) in arabic. It is the english equivalent of the letter “e” and “i” e.g.

Example:

| Words     | transliteration |
|-----------|-----------------|
| تِلْكَ    | tilka           |
| ثِيَابُ   | thiyaabun       |
| جَنَّةُ   | jinnatun        |
| حِجَارَةٌ | hijaaratun      |
| خِزْيُ    | khiz-yun        |

Exercise with fathah, dammah and kasrah

| Fat-hah | Dam-mah | Kas-rah |
|---------|---------|---------|
| بَ ba   | بُ bu   | بِ bi   |
| تَ ta   | تُ tu   | تِ ti   |
| جَ ja   | جُ ju   | جِ ji   |

The above variations are in words

|        |         |
|--------|---------|
|        |         |
| فَعِلَ | Fa'i la |
| سَمِعَ | Sa mi'a |
| كَرُمَ | Karuma  |

Tanween( التَّنْوِينُ ) nunation:

In the above lesson, we knew about the three vowels of the arabic language. We also learned that these vowels have the capability of doubling. The sound produced as a result of double vowel signs ( ُ ِ َ ) on a consonant is called "تَنْوِينٌ" tanween. The letter which holds this tanween is known as munaw-wan ( مُنَوِّنٌ ). Since, all three harakat have this capability of doubling, they are given separate names: a doubled dammah is called a dammataan ( ضَمَّتَان ), a doubled fathah is called a fathataan ( فَتَحَّتَان ), and a doubled kasrah is called a kasrataan ( كَسَرَتَان ). When a double short vowel sign is stay over a letter, then the letter pronounced with an additional "nuun" with sukuun. And this "nuun" is not written but it is pronounced. The tan-ween occurs on the last letter of the word; it may not come upon a letter which is in the middle or beginning.

Some variations between haraka and tanween in example:

- ❖ Letter ت with one fathah (تَ) is pronounced 'ta', but the same ت with double fathahs (تَأْ) is pronounced as 'tan', with double dammahs (تُ) is pronounced as 'tun' and with double kasrah (تِ) is pronounced as 'tin'.
- ❖ Letter ج with one fathah (جَ) is pronounced 'ja', but the same ج with double fathah (جَأْ) is pronounced as 'jan'. With double damma (جُ) is pronounced as 'jun' and with double kasrah (جِ) is pronounced as 'jin'.
- ❖ Letter ح with one fathah (حَ) is pronounced 'ha', but the same ح with double fathah (حَأْ) is pronounced as 'han'. With double dammah (حُ) is pronounced as 'hun' and with double kasrah (حِ) is pronounced as 'hin'.

Dammataan (ضَمَّتَان)

Dam-mataan means two dam-mahs ( ُ ) or a doubled dam-mahs is known as dam-matan. . For example, the letter 'baa' with two dam-mah sounds like 'bun'.

Example:

| Words    | transliteration |
|----------|-----------------|
| خَيْرٌ   | khayrun         |
| لِبَاسٌ  | Libaasun        |
| عَزِيزٌ  | 'aziizun        |
| بَطِيْشٌ | Batiishun       |
| قِصَاصٌ  | Qisaasun        |

Fathataan (فَتْحَاتَان)

Fat-hataan means two fat-has (َْ) or a doubled fathah is known as a fathatan. . When a letter such as 'raa' is given a fat-hataan, it sounds like 'run', as in the word 'run' in english. There is an important observation to make with the fat-hatan; it is that when a letter is written with this vowel, it is always followed by the letter 'alif' (ا) (exception: if the ending of a word is ta 'ة'). Each letter in the alphabet will have the letter 'alif' after itself, and the fat-hatan will be written atop this 'alif'. This is only for script purposes.

Example:

| Words    | transliteration |
|----------|-----------------|
| لَذِيذًا | Ladhiidhan      |
| كَثِيرًا | Kathiiiran      |
| عَزِيزًا | 'aziizan        |
| شَمْسًا  | Shamsan         |
| فِرَاشًا | Firaashan       |

Kasrataan (كَسْرَتَان)

Kasrataan means two kasrah (-ِ) . The vowel is the kas-rah, known as the kas-rataan when it is doubled. This vowel is the english equivalent of the letter 'e' and 'i' with the addition of the letter 'n'. The letter 'baa'- for example- taking a kas-rataan is pronounced like 'bin'.

Example:

| Words      | transliteration |
|------------|-----------------|
| تَضَلَّلِي | tadhliilin      |
| تَسْنِيْم  | tasniimin       |
| عَدْنِ     | 'adnin          |
| لَهْوِ     | lahwin          |
| كُرْهِ     | kurhin          |

As-sukuun (السُّكُونُ) – vowel less

sukuun means quietude, silence or stillness. In taj-weed, it refers to absence of a vowel. When a letter is without any vowel mark it is called 'ساكِن' saakin (vowel less or resting). It indicates a linking relationship with nearby letters. For indicating this sukuun arab used to use a semi-circle sign such as ْ or ْ over any letter. A letter with a sukuun sign must link to its any previous letter. This relationship will form a single or syllable or sound. When one consonant in a word is with the short vowel sign and the following letter is saakin , the two letters form a syllable, they will be read together and thus produces a joint sound e.g. لَنْ lan : the word is stop and indicated as a syllable. لَمْ lam أَتْ -at أَجْ -aj اِنْ 'in.

For further understanding some words including sukuun and their transliteration are given below:

Example:

| Words   | Transliteration |
|---------|-----------------|
| فَخَّرَ | Fakh-run        |
| فَسَقُ  | Fis-qun         |
| عُشِبَ  | 'ush-bun        |
| قَصَدَ  | qas-dun         |
| قَفَلَ  | Quf-lun         |

Tashdid (تَشْدِيد)

Tashdid (تَشْدِيد) means emphasis, intensification, doubling or geminating. When a consonant occurs twice, one after the other without a vowel in between, it is written once and the sign of emphasis (شَدَّةٌ -šaddah) is placed over it. It is functionally equivalent to writing a consonant twice in english language. A letter with tashdid is called mushaddad (مُشَدَّد) 'doubled' or intensified or stressed. A letter with a shaddah (ّ) is pronounced twice e.g. ضَلَّ ضَلَّ dhal- la ثُمَّ ثُمَّ thum- ma etc. It has various ways:

1) tashdid with dammah eg.

طَرَدْتُ tarad-tu      مُتُّ mut-tu

2) tash-did with fat-hah eg.

ظَنَّ dhan-na      إِنَّ 'in-na

3) tash-did with kas-rah e.g

تُقَابِلُ tuqab-bila      بَيِّنُ bay-yinu

4) tash-did with dham-mataan e.g.

خَفَّ khif-fun      حَلَّ hil-lun

5) tash -did with fat-hataan e.g.

حُبَّ hub-ban      جَمَّ jam-man

6) tash-did with kas-rataan e.g.

رَقَّ raq-qin      فَجَّ faj-jin

Session-2

- An introduction to the Science of Tajweed
- The Letters where the students face difficulties in articulating correctly. A brief analysis.
- Importance of learning the correct recitation of the Qur'an.
- Practice & Memorization of Surah-an-Naas.
- The manners (Adab) pertaining to the recitation of the Qur'an.
  - (i) Ta'awudh, (ii) Basmalah, (iii) Tarteel, (iv) Tadabbur

The word tajwēd linguistically means proficiency, 'doing something well', intonation, modulation, improvement, elocution. As a term, it means proper pronunciation during recitation of the holy Quran as well as recitation at a moderate speed. It is also a set of rules for better recitation of the holy Quran. This can only be done by pronouncing each letter from its correct articulation point, giving the letters their rights in inherent characteristics, and dues in conditional characteristics.

The Qur'an is the word of Allah, and its every syllable is from Allah. Its recitation must be taken very seriously. The purpose of tajwēd is to make the reciter proficient in reciting the Qur'an, observing the correct pronunciation of every letter with the rulings and characteristics which apply to each letter, without any exaggeration or deficiency. And so through this the reciter can recite the Qur'an upon the way of the Prophet (S) who received it from Jibreel who received it from Allah (SWT). There are two types of mistakes in recitation; clear mistakes and unobvious (hidden) mistakes.

Clear mistakes

Mistakes in words which are clear and inconspicuous, usually changing the meaning. Mistakes related to correct pronunciation of letters so that letters are not mixed up.

Examples of clear mistakes:

- Changing one letter into another, or a short vowel (harakah) into another, (changing fathah into damma or the letter Qaaf into Kaaf etc)
- Not observing the elongations (madd) at all. Reciting them quickly as if there is no Madd so that they turn into the length of a vowel.
- Making a madd letter out of a normal harakah.
- Stopping or starting at an incorrect place so that the meaning is spoilt. Like stopping at 'Laa ilaaha' (There is no God), without completing 'illallaah' (except Allah).

Unobvious mistakes

Mistakes which are to do with perfecting pronunciation and are not obvious. Known only by those who have studied Tajwēd rules or experts in this field. Ordinary Muslims may not know these or perceive these as mistakes.

Examples of Unobvious mistakes:

- Not being totally exact with the elongation of letters: (Making the Madd shorter or longer by a 1/2 or even 1/4 degree etc.)
- Not observing the attributes of each letter perfectly: (Slightly rolling the Raa', or exaggerating the 'N' sound in Noon etc.)
- Not observing the rules with which to pronounce letters when they are next to each other (like not merging certain letters that should be merged (idghaam) and not clearly pronouncing those which should be clearly pronounced (izhaar) etc.)

The clear mistakes must be avoided by all and to avoid them one must memories and read attentively and have knowledge of some basic aspects of tajwēd. If a person falls into the Clear Mistakes, this is considered a sin. As for the unobvious mistakes, then the ruling on them is lighter and the recitation of a person falling into this type of mistake is regarded as lacking in completeness but prayer behind such a person is sound.

'Is-tiadha and bas-mala

الِاسْتِعَاذَةُ: The meaning of isti'adhah ( اِسْتِعَاذَةٌ ) is seeking refuge or protection. In Tajwēd seeking the protection and refuge with Allah from satan before recitation of the Quran is called الاستعاذة isti'adhah In the Quran Allah (swt) said: فَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ

“So when you want to recite the Qur'ân, seek refuge with Allâh from Satan the rejected one.”(Suurah an-nahl v: 98)

The famous Sentence of اَعُوْذُ بِاللّٰهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيْمِ “is اِلِاسْتِعَاذَةُ”

Some rules of 'isti'adhah:

- ❖ Seeking refuge should be silent in the time of reciting Quran silently.
- ❖ In the prayer it will be done silently.
- ❖ It will be done loud in the time of reciting Quran aloud.
- ❖ Repeating the seeking of refuge after cutting off the recitation of the Holy Quran by coughing, sneezing or by talking referring to the reading or meaning of the verses
- ❖ Repeating of seeking refuge before beginning of reciting Quran should be repeated after cutting off reading by work or normal conversation or by eating etc.

بِسْمَلَهُ : Bas-malah means reciting ‘ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ ’. In Tajwēd, before reciting from the Holy Quran reciting the name of Allah is called Bas-malah. It is also called “Tas-miah” and full sentence of Bas-malah is بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

The ways of seeking refuge with Bas- mala at the time of reciting Holy Qur'an.

Here three things. Isti‘adha, Bas- malah, and the part of Quran. There are four options of reciting.

- Readig everything separately.

Seeking refuge, stopping, saying the bas-malah, stopping and then starting the suurah:

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ • بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ • أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ

- Reading all three jointly with each other.

Seeking refuge, saying the bas-malah and starting the suurah all in one breath without stopping.

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ

- Joining the basmalah and the beginning of the part of Quran.

Seeking refuge then stopping then reciting the basmalah and the beginning of a part of Quran in a breath.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ • أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ

- Joining seeking refuge with the basmalah then stopping. Then reciting from the holy Quran.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ • أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Tarteel and Tadabbur

Tarteel (ترتيل) (is an Arabic word means “recitation ,”in proper order” and”with no haste.” As Allah)SWT( said: وَرَتِّلِ الْقُرْآنَ تَرْتِيلاً

Tr. " and recite the Qur'an in slow, measured rhythmic tones."( al-Muzzammil : v-4)

Here "slow, measured rhythmic tones" is tarteel. It is also the term used to define the rules explaining proper recitation of the Qur'an in the manner that Jbriel (A) revealed it to Muhammad (PBUH). The interpretation of the above mentioned verse according to Ibn Kathir :

اقرأه على تمهل، فإنه يكون عوناً على فهم القرآن وتدبره

Tr. "Recite the Quran slowly (making the letters clear), for this is an assistance in understanding and pondering the meaning of the Quran."

Tarteel requires delivering words according to their makharij , pronouncing them clearly and slowly and reciting the sentences with understanding.

Tadabbur

Tadabbur, means pondering over the meaning of the verses of the Qur'an and contemplating them. It also denotes comprehensive and deep thinking and consideration in order to reach to a guidance or indications.

Tadabbur means the utmost understanding of the meaning of the words of Allah by reading the Tafseer, deep thinking and consideration over the meanings of the verse, following its guidance fully and completely. So we can say that Tadabbur cannot be attained (or fulfilled) except by:

- Good and correct recitation of the Qur'an,
- Correct understanding of the meaning of the words and verses and
- Then last by following it.

Undoubtedly, if we understand the meaning and the Tafseer, we will then reflect upon what we read because we will know what Allah wants from us.

The Qur'an itself emphasizes that mere reading or reciting of it is insufficient. One needs to reflect upon what one reads, and then act upon it. Allah (SWT) said

(29) وَلِيَتَذَكَّرَ أُولُو الْأَلْبَابِ ۚ كِتَابٌ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ إِلَيْكَ مُبَارَكٌ لِيَدَّبَّرُوا آيَاتِهِ ۚ

“(This is) a Book (the Qur'an) which I have sent down to you, full of blessings that they may ponder over its verses, and that men of understanding may remember.” (Surah Saad :29):

Allah (SWT) also said :

(24) أَفَلَا يَتَذَبَّرُونَ الْقُرْآنَ أَمْ عَلَى قُلُوبٍ أَقْفَالُهَا

“Do they not think deeply in the Qur'an, or are their hearts locked up (from understanding)?” (Surah Muhammad:24) .

Session-3

- Classification of the Alphabets on the basis of Makharij.
- Practice and memorize Sura-al-Falaq.

Classification of the Alphabets on the basis of Makharij and its application

(i) Al-Jowf (the empty space of the mouth), (ii) Al-Halaq (the throat), (iii) Al-Lisan (the tongue), (iv) Al-Shafatan (the lips), (v) Al-Khayshum (the nasal passage)

Arabic letters are not pronounced from a particular part of the articulatory gland, but need the assistance of various glands those are called ‘al-makhaarij’ (المَخَارِج) in taj-weed. In the human body, the area of these places is divided into five main sections:

1. Al-jawf (الْجَوْف) : the interior.
2. Al-halq (الْحَلْق) : the throat.
3. Al - lisaan (اللسان) : the tongue.
4. Ash - shafataan (الشفتان) : the lips.
5. Al-khay-shuum (الْخَيْشُوم) : the nasal passage. There are totally seventeen pronunciation places in these five main sections.

Section: 1

The interior. This section includes only one place (makh-raj).

Place: 1

The empty part of open mouth. The vowel sound of ‘ا’ (‘Alif) pronounced “aa”, ‘و’ (Waaw) pronounced “oo” and ‘ي’ (Yaa) pronounced “ee” emerge from this place.

Section: 2

The throat section. This section contains three places (makharij).

Place: 1

The deepest part or bottom of the throat. From this place two letters (‘ء’ Hamzah and ‘ه’ Haa’) are pronounced.

‘ء’ Hamzah is a click produced by a quick compression of the lower part of the throat which is closest to the chest e.g. أَء, إء, أء.

And ‘ه’ Haa’ is produced in the back of the throat.e.g. أَه, إه, أه.

Place: 2

The middle of the throat. From this place two letters

(‘ع’ Ayn and ‘ح’ Haa’) are pronounced.

‘ع’ Ayn is a strong guttural produced by compression of air passages deep in the throat. e.g. أَع, إَع, أُع.

‘ح’ Haa’ is pronounced with a strong explosion of air from the chest using the middle of the throat e.g. أَح, إَح, أُح.

Place: 3

The upper part of the throat. From this place two letters (‘غ’ Ghayn and ‘خ’ Khaa’) are pronounced.

‘خ’ Khaa’ is a strong continuous guttural produced at the back of the palate e.g. أَخ, إَخ, أُخ.

‘غ’ Ghayn is pronounced from the part of the throat closest to the mouth.e.g. أَغ, إَغ, أُغ.

Section: 3

The tongue section: This section contains ten places (makhaarij)

Place: 1 ‘ق’ Qaaf is pronounced when the part of tongue closest to the epiglottis touches the palate e.g. أَق, إَق, أُق.

Place: 2

‘ك’ Kaaf is pronounced when the part of tongue slightly beyond the epiglottis touches the palate e.g. أَك, إَك, أُك.

Place: 3

‘ج’ ‘ش’ ‘ي’ these three letters are pronounced when the middle part of tongue touches the palate.

‘ج’ Jeem is pronounced similarly to the English proper name ‘Jim’ or the first letter in ‘jet’ e.g. أَج, إَج, أُج.

‘ش’ Sheen is equivalent to the sound ‘sh’ as found in the beginning of the word ‘ship’ e.g. أَش, إَش, أُش.

‘ي’ Yaa is pronounced as ‘y’ in ‘yes’.

Place: 4

‘ض’ Daad is pronounced when the upturned edge of the left, right or both side of the tongue glides along the routes of the top premolars and molars e.g. أَض, إَض, أُض.

Place: 5

‘ن’ Nuun is pronounced when the edge of the tongue touches the gum of the top incisors, lateral- incisors and canines. It is equivalent to the word noon e.g. أَنْ, إِنْ, أَنْ

Place: 7

‘ر’ Raa is pronounced when the edge and tip of the tongue touches the gum of the top incisors and lateral- incisors. It is equivalent to the English letter ‘r’ e.g. أَر, إِر, أَر

Place: 8

‘ت, ط, د’ these three letters are pronounced when the tip of the tongue touches the root of the top incisors.

‘ت’ Taa can be heard in the first letter of the word 'tale' e.g. أَت, إَت, أَت

Madd (الْمَدَّ)

مَدَّ Madd literally means “extension, stretching, lengthening. In recitation of the Qur’an (tajweed), Madd means the lengthening of sound in the particular places. This lengthening of sound may be one second, two second, three second and four second long.

The signs of madd

Madd has six signs:

1. The ‘ا’ which is preceded by a fat-hah
2. The و "sakinah which is preceded by a dam-mah
3. The "ي" sakinah which is preceded by a kas-rah
4. The standing fat-hah —◌◌◌ on a letter.
5. The standing kas-rah —
6. The inverted dam-mah —‘--.

Madd technically is of various kinds: A brief discussion of its various kinds is given below:

الْمَدُّ الْأَصْلِيُّ: مَدُّ أَصْلِيٍّ means the original lengthening. It is a lengthening after one of the six signs of madd (ا - - - و - ي) and these signs should not be followed by sukun or hamjah. It is lengthened approximately one second long or as long as two vowel counts. It is named original because it is the origin of all mads (lengthens). It is also called الْمَدُّ الطَّبْعِي and الْمَدُّ الذَّاتِي

Exemple: نُوحِيهَا - لَهُ - اللَّهُ بِهِ

الْمَدُّ الْبَدَل: It is a madd when a madd sign is preceded by hamzāh. It is lengthened approximately one second

Example: اٰمَنُوا - اِيْمَانًا - اَوْ تِي

الْمَدُّ اللَّيِّن: means soften. In tajweed it is a mad after 'waw' sakinah (و) preceded by a fathah and 'ya' sakinah (ي) preceded by a fathah: It is divided into two types:

1) If a temporary sukun comes after the letter of Lin it's named by "madd lin, arid" (مَدُّ لَيْنٍ عَارِضٍ) e.g. صَيْفٌ, خَوْفٌ. It is lengthened approximately one second long.

2) If a permanent sukuun comes after the letter of Lin it's named by "madd lin lazim" (لَيْنٍ لَازِمٌ) e.g. كَهَيْعَصٍ حَمَّ عَسَقٍ. It is lengthened approximately two or three seconds long.

الْمَدُّ الْمُتَّصِلُ: مَدُّ مُتَّصِلٍ means the joined mad (lengthening). It is a lengthening of sound when the hamzah is preceded by any one of the signs / marks of original madd (ا - - - و - ي) in the same word. It is also called al-mad-dul-waajib (الْمَدُّ الْوَاجِبُ). It is lengthened approximately three or four seconds long.

Example: جَاءَ - جِيئَ - سُوءٌ

الْمَدُّ الْمُتَفَصِّلُ: مَدُّ مُتَفَصِّلٍ means the separated madd. It is a lengthening of sound when one of the signs / marks of original madd (ا - - - و - ي) at the ending of a word and the form of hamzah is at the beginning of the next word. It is lengthened approximately three seconds long.

Example: قُومُوا أَنْفُسَكُمْ -- بِمَا أَنْزَلَ

الْمَدُّ الْعَارِضُ: مَدُّ عَارِضٍ means the temporary madd. It is a madd (lengthening) that is followed by a temporary sukun due to waqf (stopping). It may be lengthened as long as one, two or three seconds long.

Example: changing of مُفْلِحُونَ from مُفْلِحُونَ

الْمَدُّ الْعَوَضُ: means substitute. It is a madd (lengthening) when the fat-hataa on the finishing letter of a word convert to alif in the time of stopping on it. It is lengthened approximately one second long.

Example: عَلِيْمًا is changed to عَلِيْمًا

الْمَدُّ اللَّازِمُ:

مَدُّ لَازِمٌ means compulsory madd. It is a madd, when the permanent sukuun is visible after the signs of madd, and that sukuun remains in all conditions: during waqf and wasl. . It is lengthened approximately three or four seconds long. It is divided into four types:

مَدُّ لَازِمٌ حَرْفِي مُثَقَّلٌ: It is a madd when a shaddah (tasdid) appears after a mark of madd in a letter.

Example: الم طسم

مَدُّ لَازِمٌ حَرْفِي مُخَفَّفٌ: It is a madd when a sukuun appears after a mark of madd in a letter.

Example: نُؤْنَفَافٌ صَادٌ , ق ص ن . Spelling:

مَدُّ لَازِمٌ كَلِمِي مُثَقَّلٌ: It is a madd when a shad-dah (tasdid) appears after a mark of madd in a word.

Example: صَوَافٌ , جَانٌ , وَلَا الضَّالِّينَ

مُخَفَّفٌ: It is a madd when a sukuun appears after a mark of madd in a word.

Example: ءَاللهِ الْآنَ , ءَالَّذِينَ

EXERCISE: Read the following verses keeping in mind the rules of madd 'مَدُّ'

1. طسم ( Suurah ash- shu'araa' : v:1)
2. تِلْكَ آيَاتُ الْكِتَابِ الْمُبِينِ ( Suurah ash- shu'araa' : v:2)

Taharat or Cleanliness in Islam

"Islam was built on the foundation of cleanliness." (Hadith)

What is Taharah?

Lexically, taharah means cleanliness and purification.

In religious terminology, it means to be purified of material impurities called najasah and virtual impurities called hadath preventing worshipping.

The Importance of Cleanliness in Islam

Islam gives great importance to cleanliness and renders it as an indispensable condition, preliminary and key to certain kinds of worshipping.

The Prophet states the following in a hadith:

"The key to prayer is taharah, that is, cleanliness, the opening of it is takbir and the complement of it is salutation."

Cleanliness is a preliminary condition for some kinds of worshipping and an indispensable element of health and hygiene. It is also a means of increase of sustenance. The following is stated in a hadith:

"Keep cleaning yourself and your environment so that your sustenance will be increased."

It will be wrong to regard cleanliness as the cleanliness of the body only. The cleanliness of the heart, good intentions and high ethics are as important as, and even more important than the cleanliness of the body. As a matter of fact, the worship of a person whose intention is not good will not be sincere; therefore, it will not be accepted in the eye of Allah.

Therefore, the cleanliness of the heart and the body must be combined in a Muslim; it should be known that if both of them are kept clean, a person will be a perfect Muslim.

The cleanliness of the body and the heart is the foundation and a basic principle of Islam. As a matter of fact, the Messenger of Allah pointed to these two issues in the following hadith:

"Islam was built on the foundation of cleanliness."

Another hadith reminding us Islam's principle of cleanliness is as follows: "Allah is clean and He likes clean people."

Some hadiths and verses showing the how much importance Islam gives to cleanliness are as follows:

"Islam is clean. Then, you need to clean yourselves because only the clean ones will enter Paradise." (Hadith)

"Cleanliness is half of belief." (Hadith)

"Cleanliness is of (the perfection and light of) belief." (Hadith)

"Allah loves those who turn to Him constantly and He loves those who keep themselves pure and clean." (al-Baqara, 222)

"Allah doth not wish to place you in a difficulty, but to make you clean, and to complete His favour to you, that ye may be grateful..." (al-Maida, 6)

"He caused rain to descend on you from heaven, to clean you therewith..." (al-Anfal, 11)

How Many Types of Cleanliness are there?

Taharah, that is cleanliness, is mainly divided into two:

1 - Taharah (Cleanliness) from Najasah.

2 - Taharah (Cleanliness) from Hadath.

What does Cleanliness from Najasah Mean?

Material dirt and impurities are called "najasah". The substance that is not clean and is dirty is called "najis". Cleanliness from najasah means cleaning the najis substance on the body or clothes.

Some dirty substances are dirty essentially. Others are actually clean but become dirty due to being polluted by some dirt. We can give urine and clothes polluted by urine as examples. Urine is dirty essentially; a garment is essentially clean but it becomes dirty due to the urine that smears on it.

What does Cleanliness from Hadath Mean?

Hadath is a state of virtual impurity that prevents a person from performing certain kinds of worship. Lack of wudu, janabah, menstruation and puerperium are examples of hadath. Cleanliness from hadath is possible through making ghusl or wudu.

How Many Types of Hadaths are there?

There are two types of hadaths:

(a) Minor hadath: It is the state of hadath that is eliminated by making wudu. Wudu is invalidated when blood flows from an organ like the mouth and nose, etc; and the state of minor hadath occurs. Wudu is enough to end the state of minor hadath.

(b) Major hadath: It is the state of hadath that occurs due to janabah, menstruation and puerperium

Impurities and Decrees about them

It is seen in fiqh books that the things that are not regarded as clean but regarded as najis (dirty) are examined in two parts:

1 – Heavy Najasah (Najasah Ghalizah),

2 – Light Najasah (Najasah Khafifah).

This differentiation does not depend on whether the dirt is little or much but whether it invalidates the prayer or not.

Whether the dirt is little or much does not matter; they both pollute things. For instance, if a small amount of najasah, whether ghalizah or khafifah, falls into the water, it makes the water dirty. From then on, making wudu with that water will not be valid.

What Things are Regarded as Najasah Ghalizah?

We can list the items that are regarded as najasah ghalizah as follows:

1 – Anything that comes out of a human's body and that necessitates wudu or ghusl: urine, feces, sperm, madi, wadi, blood, purulence, mouthful puke, menstrual blood, puerperal blood and istihadha blood...

According to Shafii and Hanbali madhhabs, the sperm is clean and it does not make the place that it smears dirty.

2 – The urine, saliva and feces of the animals whose flesh are not eaten... However, the feces of the animals like kite, eagle and sparrow hawk although their flesh is not eaten are regarded as najasah khafifah.

Only the saliva of the cat among the animals whose flesh are not eaten and its leftover are regarded as clean. Since the cat is usually together with human beings, and it always touches the things in the house and it licks man's hand, etc, Allah has not regarded its saliva and mouth as dirty so as not to make life difficult for man. Thus, He made it easy for us. As a matter of fact, the Messenger of Allah said: "The cat is not dirty. It walks around you a lot."

3 – The flowing blood of all animals...

4 – The feces of animal fowls like the chicken, goose, duck and turkey, whose flesh is eaten...

The feces of birds like the sparrow and pigeon that drop feces while they are in the air are regarded clean.

5 – The carcass or carrion called "mayta", that is, the dead bodies of animals that live on land and that were not slaughtered by the name of Allah and their raw hide...

If an animal has been slaughtered in a way that is not in accordance with the Shariah, it is also regarded as mayta and dirty; its flesh cannot be eaten; for instance, when a person does not utter basmala deliberately while slaughtering the animal. However, if he forgets to utter basmala, there is no problem.

6 – Wine is also regarded as najasah ghalizah. All fiqh scholars agree on it. There are three different views about the alcoholic drinks other than wine regarding their state of najasah. Some scholars regard them as najasah ghalizah and some as najasah khafifah; yet, according to some others, they are clean due to the matter they contain.

It should be paid attention that the disagreement about the alcoholic drinks other than wine is about whether their matter is clean or not. All of the scholars agree on the fact that they are haram (forbidden) to drink.

Is it permissible to use alcoholic substances like tincture of iodine, eau de cologne and spirit?

According to those scholars who regard alcoholic drinks other than wine as clean, alcoholic substances like eau de cologne, spirit, and tincture of iodine are clean. It is permissible to use them, that is, to spread them on your body or clothes, to pour them on you, to have them in small bottles on you are permissible. They do not invalidate the prayer.

According to the two decisions made by the Consultation Board of the Presidency of Religious Affairs (of Turkey) in 1943 and in 1948, although it is haram to drink things like spirit and eau de cologne, it is not haram to use them. They do not make the place where they are poured dirty.

Elmalılı Hamdi Yazır states the following on page 762 of the first volume of his interpretation:

“Spirit, beer and similar alcoholic drinks that are not produced from wine cannot be drunk, but, it cannot be claimed that they will invalidate the prayer when they are spread on the body or the clothes. Abu Hanifa holds the view that the substance and drops of alcoholic drinks other than wine are not najis.”

According to those who regard alcoholic drinks other than wine as najis (dirty), eau de cologne and spirit are najis, too. Therefore, the places that are wetted by eau de cologne and spirit are regarded as najis. If a place as large as the palm of a hand is wetted by them, one cannot perform a prayer unless those parts are washed. It is not enough for a place wetted by eau de cologne to be clean when the eau de cologne is volatilized by the wind or heat. That part must be washed, just like the place wetted by urine. Even if the place wetted by urine dries, that place is not regarded as clean unless it is washed.

In conclusion, we can say that it is the best way to avoid things like eau de cologne, which are disputable in terms of cleanliness. However, when it is difficult to avoid them, it will be appropriate to think that there are some scholars who say to use spirit and eau de cologne is not haram but permissible and to act accordingly.

What Things are Regarded as Najasah Khafifah?

1 - The urine and feces of horses and domestic or wild animals like sheep and deer whose flesh can be eaten... The feces of mule and donkey are controversial. There are some scholars who regard them as najasah ghalizah and others who regard them as najasah khafifah.

2 - The feces of the wild birds like hawks, kites and eagles that shit while flying... We had mentioned that the feces of the animals like pigeons and sparrows whose flesh can be eaten were clean.

Is it permissible to eat and drink water from the plates or cups of polytheists and People of the Book, who are regarded as najis by the Shari'ah? For it is possible that they cooked pork and boiled wine in them.

It is regarded permissible to eat and drink water from the plates or cups of polytheists and People of the Book if it is not obvious that or if we do not know that there was something that Islam prohibited in those plates or cups. It is not permissible to eat from them if it is known that they were dirtied with najasah.

The Messenger of Allah drank water from the water-skin of a polytheistic woman. He also ate food from the plates of the People of the Book.

However, it is necessary not to eat and drink from the plates and cups like those unless one has to; for, it is not completely away from karahah.

Ways of Cleaning Najis:

Various ways and methods are used to clean dirty things based on their nature. The main ways of cleaning are as follows:

1 - Cleaning Through Washing with Water:

2 - Cleaning Through Boiling in Water:

3 - Cleaning by Fire:

* Things made of dirty mud like pitchers, glasses, bowls are cleaned by burning them on fire.

* Cow dung and similar impurities become clean when they are burnt in fire and turn into ash.

4 - Cleaning by Wiping:

* If things like a knife, glass, polished wood, marble and tray are dirtied by wet or dry impurities, they can be cleaned by wiping with a wet cloth, sponge or soil. However, one should feel sure that the impurity has been removed.

* Engraved and embroidered things cannot be cleaned by wiping; they can be cleaned by washing.

5 - Cleaning by Scraping or Rubbing:

* If the sperm that has smeared the underwear or garment is dry, it can be cleaned by only rubbing without washing. The trace left on the garment after rubbing does not invalidate worshipping. If the sperm that has smeared the garment is wet, it will be regarded clean only after it is washed.

The sperm that has stuck on the body is not cleaned by rubbing; the body will be regarded clean only after it is washed.

* If some dirt falls onto frozen fat, the fat is regarded clean after the part on which the dirt fell is scraped and removed.

6 - Cleaning by Drying and Disappearance of the Trace of the Dirt:

* When the ground and things that are fixed on the ground like trees, grass, etc are dirtied, they are regarded clean when the dirt on them dries. That drying can be through the sun, fire or wind. Praying can be performed on such a place but tayammum cannot be carried out by them because they are clean but they cannot be used to clean things.

* Dirty soil is regarded clean after sufficient water is poured onto it to remove the dirt or by laying enough clean soil on it to eliminate the smell of the dirt.

7 - Cleaning Through the Flowing of the water or Disappearance of the Water:

* A small puddle (for instance the basin of a bath) into which some dirt has fallen is regarded clean when clean water is poured into it and the dirty water overflows; in this case, the puddle is regarded like running water.

* A polluted well becomes clean if its water disappears spontaneously or if the well is emptied by drawing its water with buckets.

8 - Cleaning Through Changing State:

9 - Cleaning Through Cutting and Tanning:

Najasaat:

An-Najasat is the plural of Najasah, and that means everything that normal people consider unclean or impure, which they seek to avoid, and which they wash from their garments if it affects them, such a feces and urine.

The original state of things - as is known from the generality and particulars of the purified Islamic Law - is purity. And there is no doubt that when a thing is ruled to be impure, this requires a ruling of obligation upon the slaves, and the basic principle is freedom from that, especially in things which are deemed to be a general necessity .. so when there is no evidence to show that something is impure, it is not permissible for any of Allah's slaves to rule that it is impure, based on nothing more than an invalid opinion or faulty evidence.

The impurities (Najasat) are:

1. Human urine:

This is based upon the Hadith of Anas Ibn Malik, who said: "A Bedouin stood up and started urinating in the masjid. The people caught him, but the Prophet (ﷺ) ordered them to leave him and pour a bucket of water over the place where he had passed the urine." This is an authentic Hadith

2. Human feces:

This is based upon the Hadith of Abu Hurairah, who reported from the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) that he said:

"If any of you puts his shoe in something harmful, then dust will purify it." This Hadith is Saheeh li-ghairihi (supported by other narrations which raise it to the level of saheeh)

And the Hadith of Abu Hurairah, who reported from the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) that he said:

" if he puts his Khuffs in something harmful, then dust will purify them." This Hadith is Saheeh-li-ghairihi (supported by other narrations which raise it to the level of Saheeh).

3. Al-Mazi:

The fluid that is secreted at the time sexual foreplay of kissing; it is secreted by both men and women. The Arabic verbs meaning to secrete this substance are 'Maza', 'Amza' and 'Mazza'.

It is reported on the authority of 'Ali bin Abi Talib (son-in-law of Prophet) that he said: "I used to secrete Mazi, so asked a man to ask the Messenger of Allah (صلى الله عليه وسلم) about it. I was shy to do so because my position with respect to his daughter. He (صلى الله عليه وسلم) said: "Preform Wudhoo' and wash your penis." This is an authentic Hadith.

4. Al-Wadi:

This is a fluid secreted following urination (by some men). It is also known as Al-Wadiyy. It is impure, the evidence for which is the consensus of the scholars (Ijma'). Imam An-Nawawi said: "The (scholars of the) the nation are in absolute agreement that al-Mazi and Al-wadi are impure." (end of quote).

Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of Ibn 'Abbas that he said: "Al-Mani, Al-Mazi and Al-Wadi: As for Al-Mani, it requires Ghusl, while the other two necessitate Wudhoo' - a person should wash his penis and then perform Wudhoo." This tradition has a sound chain of narrators.

5. A dog's saliva:

This is based upon the Hadith of Abu Hurairah in which he said: "The Messenger of Allah (صلى الله عليه وسلم) said:

"If a dog licks a vessel belonging to any one of you, he should pour it away and then wash the vessel seven times."

This is an authentic Hadith.

6. Menstrual blood:

This is based upon the Hadith of Asma' Bint Abi Bakr, who said "A woman asked the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ):

O, Messenger of Allah! What should we do, if the blood of menses falls on our clothes?' Th Messenger (ﷺ) replied:

"If the blood of menses falls on the garment of anyone of you, she must take hold of the blood spot and rub it, then wash it with water and pray in it." This is an authentic Hadith. (InshaAllah will continue)

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Allah – there is no deity except Him, the Ever-Living, the Sustainer of [all] existence.

Neither drowsiness overtakes Him nor sleep.

To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and whatever is on the earth.

Who is it that can intercede with Him except by His permission?

He knows what is [presently] before them and what will be after them, and they encompass not a thing of His knowledge except for what He wills.

His Kursi extends over the heavens and the earth, and their preservation tires Him not.

And He is the Most High, the Most Great.

Session-10

- Masa'alah on Wudu.
- Masa'alah on Tayammum

Wuḍū' (Arabic: الوضوء al-wuḍū') is the Islamic procedure for cleansing parts of the body, a type of ritual purification, or ablution. The 4 Fardh (Mandatory) acts of Wudu consists of washing the face, arms, then wiping the head and finally washing the feet with water.

Wudu is an important part of ritual purity in Islam. It is governed by fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), which specifies rules concerning hygiene and defines the rituals that constitute it.

It is typically performed during prayers (salah or salat). Activities that invalidate wudu include urination, defecation, flatulence, deep sleep, light bleeding, menstruation, postpartum and sexual intercourse.

Wudu is often translated as 'partial ablution', as opposed to ghusl as 'full ablution' where the whole body is washed. It also contrasts with tayammum ('dry ablution'), which uses sand or dust in place of water, principally due to water scarcity or other harmful effects on the person.[3] Purification of the body and clothes is called taharah.

Basis in The Quran and Hadith

Qur'an 2:222 says "For God loves those who turn to Him constantly and He loves those who keep themselves pure and clean." [2:222] The Islamic prophet Muhammad said that "Cleanliness is half of faith."

Description in Hadith

Wudu in Hadith Abu Hurairah, in reference to the Day of Resurrection, reported that Muhammad, when asked if he would be able to recognize Muslims, said, "Yes, you would have a mark which other people will not have. You would come to me with a white blaze on your foreheads and white marks on your feet because of the traces of ablution."

Abu Hurayra said, "I have heard prophet (may peace be upon him) say. In a believer adornment would reach the places where ablution reaches."

Uthman stated that Muhammad said, "He who performed ablution well, his sins would come out from his body, even coming out from under his nails."

Umar reported that Muhammad said, "No one among you does wuḍū' and does wuḍū' thoroughly – or adequately – and then testifies, 'There is no god but Allah Alone with no partner and I testify that Muhammad is Allah's Messenger', without the eight doors of the Garden being opened to him so that he can enter by whichever of them he wishes."

Performing Wudu from Large Bodies of Water:

It is mentioned in numerous Hadiths by Ja'far al-Sadiq that it is permissible to make wudu with water that is not overwhelmed with the smell of dead animals. If there is a dead animal, it is recommended to take wudu from the opposite side of the location of the animal.[9] He also said it is permissible to take wudu from the ponds between Mecca and Medina in which people perform ghusl, dogs and beasts drink, and animals die so long as the water level is at least up to the knees.

Performing Wudu from a Well.

It has been narrated by Ali al-Ridha that if a drop of urine, blood or animal feces falls into a well, one must remove about ten buckets from it before performing wudu. If the feces has disintegrated into the water, forty to fifty buckets must be removed. Ja'far al-Sadiq has also mentioned that if an animal falls into the well, and has not disintegrated in it, remove five to seven buckets of water from it or until the smell or taste of the water changes. However, If the animal is bleeding or has an open wound, one must draw out thirty to forty buckets before it becomes purified for wudu. If a camel dies in the well or wine is poured into the well, all the water must be drained.

Water requirements

Permitted water types:

- Spring, sea or river water
- Melted snow or hail
- Water of ocean, lakes or ponds.
- Well water or fountain water

Prohibited water types

- Green water (green water usually means dirty water)
- Water made from any trees or fruits
- Water which urine, blood, stool, or touched by an animal or a dead animal
- Used water of wuḍū' or ghusl (according to the Hanbali School of Thought)

Session-11

● Masa'alah on Gusal.

Ghusl: (Arabic: غسل Ġusl,) is an Arabic term to the full-body ritual purification mandatory before the performance of various rituals and prayers, for any adult Muslim after having ejaculation. or completion of the menstrual cycle.

The washing is also required (i.e. it is mustahabb) before Jumu'ah and Eid prayers, before entering the ihram in preparation for Hajj, after having lost consciousness and after formally converting. Sunni Muslims also perform the ablution before Namaz-e-tawbah (Prayer of Repentance).

Ghusl is often translated as "full ablution", as opposed to the "partial ablution" of wudu وضوء that Muslims perform after lesser impurities such as urination, defecation, flatulence, deep sleep, and light bleeding.

Types by purpose:

Ghusl becomes obligatory for several causes, and the ghusl for each of these different causes has different names:

- Ghusl Janabat is ghusl performed after sexual intercourse or ejaculation.
- Ghusl Hayd is following menstruation.
- Ghusl Nifas is following lochia (vaginal discharge after giving birth, which can occur for up to 6 weeks after birth)
- Ghusl Mayyit is ghusl performed on a dead Muslim.
- Ghusal for converting from kufr to islam.

Water requirements.

Similar to wudu, some water is permissible for use for ghusl whereas some water is not. Permissible water sources include:

- Rainwater
- Well water
- Spring, sea, or river water
- Water of melting ice
- Water of a big tank or pond
- Ghusl is not allowed with unclean or impure water or water extracted from fruit and trees.

The acts of ghusl

The Quranic mandate for ghusl comes in surah an-Nisa:

O you who have believed, do not approach prayer while you are in a state of drowsiness until you know what you are saying or in a state of janabah, except those passing through [a place of prayer], until you have washed [your whole body]. And if you are ill or on a journey or one of you comes from the place of relieving himself or you have contacted women and find no water, then seek clean earth and wipe over your faces and your hands [with it]. Indeed, Allah is ever Pardoning and Forgiving.[Quran 4:43 (Translated by Sahih International)]

The phrase translated as 'intercourse' in this verse has been interpreted by Hanafi scholars to mean sexual contact, while Shafi'i scholars interpret it to mean both physical and sexual contact. Hence, the Hanafi school of thought does not require one to take wudu if there is non-sexual contact with a member of the opposite sex, while the Shafi'i school of thought does require wudu before salah and so on.

Farā'id of Ghusl

There are three [[faraid (obligatory) acts. If one of these acts is omitted, it must be returned to and completed before the remaining acts.

- Rinsing the inner mouth
- Sniffing water and blowing it out.
- Washing the entire body.

Sunnah of Ghusl

Optional alternate method as demonstrated by the Islamic prophet, Muhammad:

- Washing both the hands up to the wrists.
- Wash the private parts with the left hand and remove dirt or filth from the body (using your left hand).
- Perform wudu (ablution).
- Pour water over the head three times, and rub the hair so that the water reaches the roots of the hair.
- Then wash the body, making sure that the water reaches all parts, starting with the right side of the body and then the left and rubbing it with the hands so that the water reaches the entire body.

- Masa'alah on Tayammum.

Tayammum (Arabic: تيمم) is the Islamic act of dry Ritual purification using a purified sand or dust, which may be performed in place of ritual washing (wudu or ghusl) if no clean water is readily available or if one is suffering from moisture-induced skin inflammation or scaling.

Stone of Tayammum

Etymology

Tayammum (Arabic: تيمم) is an Arabic word that means an aim or purpose. Tayammum is derived from "amma," meaning 'to repair'.

In Islamic Law, Tayammum meaning to wipe the face and hands of a person with the purpose of purification and providing oneself to pray and act by aiming for or exploring soil, purified sand, or dust.

In the Quran

"Oh you who believe! When you intend to offer As-Salat (the prayer), wash your faces and your hands (forearms) up to the elbows, rub (by passing wet hands over) your heads, and (wash) your feet up to ankles. If you are in a state of Janaba (i.e. after a sexual discharge), purify yourselves (bathe your whole body). But if you are ill or on a journey, or any of you comes after answering the call of nature, or you have been in contact with women (i.e. sexual intercourse), and you find no water, then perform tayammum with clean earth and rub therewith your faces and hands. Allah does not want to place you in difficulty, but He wants to purify you, and to complete His Favor to you that you may be thankful."

Circumstances

In the following seven circumstances, one has to make Tayammum rather Wudu (ablution) or ghusl (a ritual bath):

- when access to water is restricted or impractical
- When sufficient amounts of water for ritual washing are not available.
- when using the available water for wudu or ghusl will leave insufficient water for drinking and will put you and your dependents at risk of dying of thirst or illness.
- When obtaining water is hazardous or prohibitively expensive.
- When using water poses a health risk.
- When the water available is impure.
- when you are not let to use available water.
- when performing Wudu or Ghusl will make all or part of the time of prayer.

In the Quran

O you who have believed, do not approach prayer while you are intoxicated until you know what you are saying or in a state of janabah, except those passing through [a place of prayer], until you have washed [your whole body]. And if you are ill or on a journey or one of you comes from the place of relieving himself or you have contacted women and find no water, then seek clean earth and wipe over your faces and your hands [with it]. Indeed, Allah is ever Pardoning and Forgiving." [b]

Thus, in case of illness, even if there is water, one still does not need to wash.

Performing Tayammum

Finding a piece of ground which is free of najaasah (unclean elements). This could be any kind of ground surface that naturally collects dust like rock or sand.

Mentally make niyyah, or intention to make tayammum.

Recite the bismillah.

Place the hands on the surface of the ground.

Lift your hands and ensure that there is no dust on your palm surface by hitting your hands together.

Rub your face with both your hands. The face encompasses the right ear to the left, and the top of the forehead to the bottom of the chin

Rub your hands with one another. The hands must be wiped up to the wrist bone.

The same conditions that invalidate wudu also invalidate tayammum. In addition, a person's tayammum is invalidated as and when water becomes available.

Items on which Tayammum is permitted:

Tayammum is permitted on clean earth piece, but the ideas about what is inside of this definition or not is depending per maddhabs. Some maddhabs accepts baked earthen pots (unglazed), clay, limestone, the tayammum stone, taahir (pure) earth, and walls of mud, stone or brick.

Items on which Tayammum is not permitted:

Tayammum is not permitted on things that are not earthen, such as things that burn and turn into ashes or things that can be melted by heat.
