

Explaining the Ayat mentioning Haram foods.

who have believed, enjoy of the wonderful things We have given for you, and give thanks to Allah if He is the One you adore. You are only not allowed to consume anything that has been sacrificed to deities other than Allah, dead animals, blood, and swine flesh. However, there is no fault on the one who is forced, neither desiring it nor going over its limit. Yes, Allah is Merciful and Forgiving. Indeed, people who exchange what Allah has revealed in the Book for a low price while keeping it hidden only take the Fire into their bodies. On the Day of the Resurrection, Allah will not converse with them and He will not purify them. Additionally, they will suffer a harsh penalty.

What did Allah(swt) say about interest? Islamic system of loan.

On the Day of Judgment, individuals who indulge in interest will appear to be insane people who have been possessed by Satan. Because they claim that "Trade is no different than interest." However, Allah has disallowed interest and permitted commerce. After being warned by their Lord, those who refrain may keep their prior earnings, and Allah will decide their case. Those who don't give up will be the people who live in the Fire. They'll be there indefinitely. Allah has made charitable giving profitable and interest futile. And Allah hates all unthankful evildoers. There won't be any fear or sorrow for people who believe, act morally, establish prayer, and pay alms-tax because their reward will come from their Lord. O faithful! If you are "true" believers, you should fear Allah and sacrifice any outstanding interest. If not, watch out for a conflict with Allah and His Messenger! However, if you turn from your sin, you are allowed to keep your moral integrity without causing or taking damage.

Impact of drugs and gambling. How is it haram?

Believers! Alcohol, gambling, religious altar offerings, and divining arrows are all abominations that were created by Satan. Therefore, completely turn away from it so that you can achieve actual achievement. Satan just wants to incite animosity and hatred among you and divert your attention from praying and remembering Allah. Will you then stop?

Mahram, non-mahram. Impact of Hijab?

Dear Prophet! Inform the believing males to look away and maintain their modesty. For them, that is purer. Allah is undoubtedly aware of what they do. Tell the believing women to keep their modesty and drop their look, and to only show the adornments that are naturally visible. They should pull their veils over their chests and refrain from showing off their "hidden" ornaments to anyone besides their husbands, fathers, father-in-law, sons, stepsons, brothers, brothers' sons, or sisters' sons, fellow women, the "bondwomen" they are in possession of, male attendants who lack sexual desire, or young children who are still unaware of women's nudity. They shouldn't stamp their feet to bring attention to their unnoticed jewelry. All of you should repent and turn to Allah.

Mahram for women- In Islam, a mahram is a family member with whom marriage would be considered permanently unlawful (haram).

- their husbands, fathers, father-in-law, sons, stepsons, brothers, brothers' sons, or sisters' sons, fellow women, the "bondwomen", or young children who are still unaware of women's nudity.

Non-mahram - A non-mahram (also known as "Ghayr Mahram") refers to a woman or man that a person is allowed to marry in their lifetime or someone who is temporarily forbidden for them, such as a husband's brother or wife's sister.

System of divorce? Which allows a man retain a divorced wife for the 2nd time?

And if you are strongly committed to getting a divorce, Allah listens and knows.

And divorced women must wait three menstrual cycles before remarrying. Furthermore, it is forbidden for them to hide what Allah has made inside their wombs.

if they trust in Allah and the Day of Judgment. In that time, their husbands have the better right to take them back. If they want to make apologies. And they (women) have reasonable rights (over their spouse in respects to living expenses, etc.) that are like (those of) their husbands' rights over them in regards to obedience and respect, etc.

However, men have some control (and responsibility) over them. Allah is also All-Mighty. All-Wise.

Divorce happens twice. Then, either keep her in a respectable manner or free her after treating her well. And unless both of them worry that they won't be able to keep [within] Allah's bounds, it is not permissible for you to take anything from what you have provided them. However, if you are concerned that they won't abide by Allah's restrictions, then neither of them should be held responsible for how she ransoms herself. Don't go beyond Allah's bounds; they are listed here. And whomever exceeds Allah's boundaries is the one who is doing wrong.

Who is Luqman? What did he advise? Role in development of young.

Luqman told his son, "O my son, do not associate [anything] with Allah," while he was training him. Association with him is, in fact, a grave injustice.

And We have commanded man to take care of his parents. His weaning will take place in two years. His mother carried him while experiencing rising levels of weakness. Be thankful to Me and to your parents since I am the [true] goal.

However, if they try to convince you to associate something with Me that you are unaware of, do not submit to them; instead, walk beside them in [this] world with appropriate love and take the path of those who come back to Me [in repentance]. When you return, I shall be there to greet you.

Warrish of Jannah (Sura mu'minun)

Successful indeed are the believers: those who humble themselves in prayer; those who abstain from idle chatter; those who pay alms-tax; those who guard their chastity except with their wives or those "bondwomen" in their possession,¹ for then they are absolved of blame; "the believers are also" those who are true to their trusts and covenants; and "the believers are" those who are "properly" observant of their prayers.

These people will receive awards.

Warrish of Jannah (Sura Furqan)

The Most Compassionate "true" slaves are those who carry themselves modestly and only respond in peace when the dumb address them "inappropriately." They are the ones that spend a significant amount of the night kneeling and standing before their Lord. "The people who pray, "Our Lord, keep the punishment of Hell from falling upon us, for its punishment is unceasing." are those people. It is undoubtedly a bad location to live and settle. "They are individuals who are in the middle and don't spend extravagantly or sparingly. "They are people who do not worship any other deity but Allah, commit fornication, nor take a "human" life -- which Allah has declared sacrosanct -- unless they have a "legal" justification to do so. And anybody engages in any of this will pay a price.

Summary- The true servants of the Most Compassionate are those who walk on the earth humbly, spend a good portion of the night prostrating themselves, pray, and do good deeds. They do not invoke any other god besides Allah, take a human life, or commit fornication. Those who repent, believe, and do good deeds will be rewarded with elevated mansions in Paradise for their perseverance and will be received with salutations and greetings of peace.
